

Nice to see that Congress is tackling really important issues in an election year - - stop trying to stifle a service that traveling consumers need and are willing to pay for! If I am driving through Chicago, I do not have the time or desire to keep waiting for traffic updates from a static-filled AM station when a much better service is already available through satellite radio!